Property Development And Progressive Architecture The New Alliance:

Property Development and Progressive Architecture David B. Sokol, 2004-03-05 Today a new alliance is being forged between designers and commercial property developers who are championing progressive design in projects as diverse as apartment blocks houses hotels and offices While some architects are taking a proactive role in property development other firms are hammering out a new position for themselves as designer developers Simultaneously property developers are starting to recognise the added value that an architect can bring to a project in terms of planning design quality and creativity This issue takes a truly international look at the projects architects and developers are achieving together It explores the opportunities that are driving the architect developer alliance in Hong Kong London Tokyo and Melbourne as well as the marketing potential of design excellence in New York Property development has to be market driven and certainly not product driven The architect can creatively add great value to the developers commercial objectives by design in doing so he can achieve his architectural agenda at the same time Ken Yeang Thank goodness the old guard is dying of obsolescence Our cities will revel for the evolution Gregg Pasquarelli SHoP Sharples Holden Pasquarelli The Icon Project Leslie Sklair, 2017 The Icon Project argues that the transnational capitalist class mobilizes two forms of iconic architecture unique icons recognized as works of art notably designed by global starchitects such as Frank Gehry and Zaha Hadid and typical icons copying elements of unique icons to promote the same ideological message the culture ideology of consumerism

Assessment of Library Collections in a Consortial Environment George Lupone, 2013-09-13 The consortial environment provides librarians with new ways to manage collections at their home institutions Academic libraries in Ohio have been participating in OhioLINK since 1988 and the consortium has had an effect on shaping local collections for more than one decade While each institution pursues its own collection management strategy the shared resources and delivery system provided through OhioLINK influence local collections profoundly What has been the effect This work is a collection of articles assessing local collections within a consortial environment The authors assess collections from their own vantage points considering such diverse factors as cost regional depositories book reviews and faculty input The influence of consortial ties in shaping local collections is a common thread throughout the work This book was published as a special issue of Collection Management

Cognition and the Built Environment Ole Møystad, 2017-12-12 Cognition and the Built Environment argues that interacting with our built environment as users and as architects is a cognitive process It claims that architecture in its form and meaning is a basic embodied level of human cognition The assumption is that we and our built environment together form an intelligent system a cognitive feedback loop between us and the world of which we are part With this as a vantage point the book discusses the meaning and intelligence of concrete architectural environments as well as the agency of the architect of his client and of the user The inquiry oscillates between abstract thought topological models and cognitive semiotics between pragmatist philosophy and the professional practice of planning cities developing projects and using objects Architecture serves more complex purposes than our caves paths and landmarks did Written for students and academics of urban design urban planning and architectural theory Cognition and the Built Environment argues that human cognition feeds on the interaction between thought agency and built environment and that architecture is the spatial form of this interaction Computer Aided Architectural Design Futures 2005 Bob Martens, Andre Brown, 2005-12-06

MARTENS Bob and BROWN Andre Co conference Chairs CAAD Futures 2005 Computer Aided Architectural Design is a particularly dynamic field that is developing through the actions of architects software developers researchers technologists users and society alike CAAD tools in the architectural office are no longer prominent outsiders but have become ubiquitous tools for all professionals in the design disciplines At the same time techniques and tools from other fields and uses are entering the field of architectural design This is exemplified by the tendency to speak of Information and Communication Technology as a field in which CAAD is embedded Exciting new combinations are possible for those who are firmly grounded in an understanding of architectural design and who have a clear vision of the potential use of ICT CAAD Futures 2005 called for innovative and original papers in the field of Computer Aided Architectural Design that present rigorous high quality research and development work Papers should point towards the future but be based on a thorough understanding of the past and present Club Culture Eleanor Curtis, 2003 This title looks at the new breed of a variety of clubs including the new club class offered by airlines and the transit its members enjoy through new exclusive spaces before and after boarding the new members clubs of London and other major cities and more Design City Tokyo Masaaki Takahashi, 2005 Since the late 1980s Tokyo has gained an unrivalled reputation worldwide for being at the very cutting edge of the international design scene Despite the downturn in the Japanese economy in the mid 1990s interior design has thrived fuelled by a rapid turnover in consumer trends and the pressure on urban space For retail and entertainment venues design is a potent tool proving itself to be an essential aid in the perpetual jostle for customers and market share In the last few years the design stakes have heightened rather than diminished International companies have also joined the fray by investing heavily in signature architecture in the city In 2001 the Renzo Piano Building Workshop completed the Japanese headquarters for Hermès in Tokyo and in 2003 Herzog de Meuron captured the attention of the world's press with its impressive glass building for Prada in Roppongi Design City Tokyo features the latest stylish interior design projects in the city As well as restaurants bars shops offices and homes it includes a male beauty parlour a disco for the over 40s and Kengo Kuma's new temple The projects range from the internationally renowned to hidden backstreet gems The author's insider knowledge of Tokyo offers the reader a rare and privileged perspective imparting both design and cultural insights Extreme Sites Deborah Gans, Claire Weisz, 2004-05-21 Tackling a hot green architectural topic brownfield sites this title asks the essential question how should urban and post industrial sites best be rehabilitated to balance ecological and human needs This issue of AD is devoted to what planners refer to as brownfields These are often sites made toxic through a recipe of urbanism and industry from our great water thoroughfares to our landfills They are often the only sites available to us for planning consideration The book examines the conflict between the demands of ecology and development when reclaiming such sites for re development bringing together multiple viewpoints from different disciplines Includes the internationally renowned Andy Goldsworthy Glenn Murcutt and Renzo Piano It will recast the topic in a fresh and current light that will interest a wide audience from students to practitioners Aerial photographs maps and photo essays will give the visuals a richness and breadth of appeal Green is an architectural buzzword and is viewed as the new parameter for good practice

The 1970s is Here and Now Samantha Hardingham,2005-04-29 The 1970 s was marked by a seismic change that occurred in the representation of ideas in architecture as they appeared monthly on the pages of AD The magazine bears out the energetic experimental environmentally conscious and ultimately pluralist culture that prevailed throughout the 1960 s carrying it through to the emergence of Post Modernism in the late 1970 s This issue of AD presents a Cosmorama for Now looking at such subjects as housing schools health urban design and planning Contributors will include amongst others Jon Goodbun FAT Kester Ratternbury David West of Will Aslop Architects Liza Fior of Muf Jeremy Till Nic Clear Robert Webb John Paul Frazer Pauline van Mourik Brekman and Simon Worthington of Mute Magazine Sand Helsel Will McLean Pete Silver Adam Kalkin Chris Muller Samantha Hardingham
