Serials And Their Readers 16201914:

Serials and Their Readers, 1620-1914 Robin Myers, Michael Harris, 1993 Serialization and the Novel in Mid-Victorian Magazines Catherine Delafield, 2016-03-03 Examining the Victorian serial as a text in its own right Catherine Delafield re reads five novels by Elizabeth Gaskell Anthony Trollope Dinah Craik and Wilkie Collins by situating them in the context of periodical publication She traces the roles of the author and editor in the creation and dissemination of the texts and considers how first publication affected the consumption and reception of the novel through the periodical medium Delafield contends that a novel in volume form has been separated from its original context that is from the pattern of consumption and reception presented by the serial The novel's later re publication still bears the imprint of this serialized original and this book's investigation into nineteenth century periodicals both generates new readings of the texts and reinstates those which have been lost in the reprinting process Delafield's case studies provide evidence of the ways in which Household Words Cornhill Magazine Good Words All the Year Round and Cassell's Magazine were designed for new audiences of novel readers Serialization and the Novel in Mid Victorian Magazines addresses the material conditions of production illustrates the collective and collaborative creation of the serialized novel and contextualizes a range of texts in the nineteenth century experience of print

Novels of Everyday Life Laurie Langbauer, 2019-05-15 Laurie Langbauer argues that our worldview is shaped not just by great public events but also by the most overlooked and familiar aspects of common life the everyday This sphere of the everyday has always been a crucial component of the novel but has been ignored by many writers and critics and long associated with the writing of women Focusing on the linked series of novels characteristic of later Victorian and early modern fiction such as Margaret Oliphant's Carlingford Chronicles or the Sherlock Holmes stories she investigates how authors make use of the everyday as a foundation to support their versions of realism What happens when in the series novel or in contemporary theory the everyday becomes a site of contestation and debate Langbauer pursues this question through the novels of Margaret Oliphant Charlotte Yonge Anthony Trollope and Arthur Conan Doyle and in the writings of Dorothy Richardson Virginia Woolf and John Galsworthy as they reflect on their Victorian predecessors She also explores accounts of the everyday in the works of such theorists as Henri Lefebvre Michel de Certeau and Sigmund Freud as well as materialist critics including George Lukacs Max Horkheimer and Theodor Adorno Her work shows how these writers link the series and the everyday in ways that reveal different approaches to comprehending the obscurity that makes up daily life
