Seeds Of Power:

Seeds of Power Amalia Leguizamón,2020-09-11 In 1996 Argentina adopted genetically modified GM soybeans as a central part of its national development strategy Today Argentina is the third largest global grower and exporter of GM crops Its soybeans which have been modified to tolerate being sprayed with herbicides now cover half of the country s arable land and represent a third of its total exports While soy has brought about modernization and economic growth it has also created tremendous social and ecological harm rural displacement concentration of landownership food insecurity deforestation violence and the negative health effects of toxic agrochemical exposure In Seeds of Power Amalia Leguizamón explores why Argentines largely support GM soy despite the widespread damage it creates She reveals how agribusiness the state and their allies in the media and sciences deploy narratives of economic redistribution scientific expertise and national identity as a way to elicit compliance among the country s most vulnerable rural residents In this way Leguizamón demonstrates that GM soy operates as a tool of power to obtain consent to legitimate injustice and to quell potential dissent in the face of environmental and social violence
