

What Educators Are Saying About the 5D Model:

"This is a must for Muslim educators of the 21st century. It is about a holistic and transformative approach to teaching and learning. It is the nurturing and raising of the hearts and minds of the ummah. The 5D can be seamlessly integrated in all components of the domains of learning."

Mona Elgati, Mississauga, Ottawa Islamic School, Canada

"The 5D model has enhanced and enriched our curriculum at the Islamic Outreach Foundation. Our children can now make more meaningful and deeper links with Allah as the creator of the universe and understand their purpose as stewards of the earth."

Esraa Ahmed, Markham School (50-year school), ON

"The 5D model is the development of curiosity, working towards contentment and nurturing positive educational ideas. The model gives a great framework for conducting lessons and making science fun and engaging."

Dr. Farahat Akhbar, House of Wisdom (50-year school), Pakistan

"The wonderful thing about 5D Thinking is that it allows teachers to engage with a conceptual framework based on an Islamic worldview and thereby support children to engage with scientific concepts using that framework. This is conducive to holistically integrating Islamic education and '5D Thinking'."

Dr. Farah Akhbar, Research Fellow, University of Cambridge, UK

"Islamic schools have been trying to integrate Islam with academic subjects and come up with various character education programs but haven't been able to do so 100%. The 5D Model is the answer for both integration and character development. I think every Islamic school globally should be implementing this model!"
