

A FOR AND AGAINST ESSAY

An essay is an academic formal piece of writing which describes, analyses or discusses a particular issue

The most common types are:

- Opinion essays: presents the writer's personal opinion of the topic, supporting this opinion with examples and reasons.
- For and against essays: it presents both sides of an issue in a balanced way. In the concluding paragraph you can say why you find one side more convincing than the other.

In this post, I'll guide you step by step to write a good for and against essay.

- Step 4. Using connectors of purpose
- Step 5. Write: 53 topics to write about.

TIPS AND GUIDELINES+ SAMPLE ESSAY

1. The first stage in writing is producing ideas. It's important to dedicate two or three minutes to carefully planning what you are going to say. Make a list of the points for and against. Remember that the key to writing a good balanced essay is to include as many arguments you disagree with as those you agree with. They should be noted impartially although in your conclusion you can say why you find one side more convincing than the other.
2. Producing and organising ideas is one thing. Shaping ideas and the organisation of your writing is another. But often the most difficult part is starting a first draft. Once you have your first draft pay attention to how you have organised the information into paragraphs and grouped ideas. Once this is done you can focus on expression. This means looking at sentence structure, tense usage and vocabulary. It's important to write clearly and economically. This can mean either rephrasing ideas in two sentences instead of one, or rewriting two longer sentences as one shorter sentence. So, go over your first draft, looking for ways of improving sentence structure, tense usage and vocabulary.
3. Organise your essay into three parts:
  - Introduction- Paragraph 1- Introduce the topic. The opening should engage the reader's interest and give a hint of what is to follow
  - Main Body- Normally you have two paragraphs. In Paragraph 2, you state your arguments for and in Paragraph 3, your arguments against.
