ing their geometrical relationships. Figure 25-2 illustrates two surfaces that subtend the same solid angle. An ideal luminous source (a point source) will radiate in all directions. Therefore, at any distance r from the source one may create a sphere of radius r . The surface area of a sphere is $4\pi r^2$. A steradian (sr) is a solid angle subtended by a portion of the spherical area equal to r^2 . Therefore, there are 4π steradians in a sphere.

As light radiates from the source, the amount of light (luminous flux or power, Φ) passing through one steradian is always the same, as can be seen for the two surfaces in Figure 25-2. If the point source has a luminance of 1 candela (cd), the luminous flux
