Monitoring Education Carol Taylor Fitz-Gibbon,1996-01-01 In this text the author draws on her experience as creator of the ALIS project A Level Information System a quality monitoring and feedback system in use in many parts of the UK She asks the question how do we get quality into education and uses the positive lessons of ALIS to analyze the requirements of an effective value added monitoring system

Equity and Quality Dimensions in Educational Effectiveness Leonidas Kyriakides,Bert Creemers,Evi Charalambous,2018-01-03 This book aims to make a contribution to the theory research and practice on quality and equity in education by providing a comprehensive overview of these two dimensions of educational effectiveness and proposing a methodological instrument that may be used to measure the contribution that each school can make to promoting equity The importance of using this instrument is demonstrated by analysing results of various effectiveness studies conducted over the last decade The book draws upon research across the world especially research conducted in the Europe the United States and Australasia It is shown that promoting equity has no negative effect on the promotion of quality The importance of using this methodological instrument to identify factors that promote both quality and equity at different educational levels i e teacher school and educational system is stressed The book also demonstrates how we can measure stability and changes in the effectiveness status of schools over time in terms of fostering quality and equity In addition it underlines the importance of identifying factors measuring changes in the effectiveness status of schools in terms of equity and points to the alternative strategies that can be used at school and system level In our attempt to encourage the further development and use of this methodology for school improvement purposes we demonstrate how experimental studies can be conducted to discover whether and under which conditions the proposed methodology can help schools promote both quality and equity Finally implications for school evaluation research educational policy and practice are drawn In this way the book contributes significantly to the debate on how quality and equity can be achieved and encourages policy makers and practitioners not to view these two dimensions of effectiveness as being in competition with each other but as constituting the major objectives of any reform policy and or improvement effort at school and or national levels

Monitoring the Quality of Education in Schools Vanessa Scherman,Roel J. Bosker,Sarah J. Howie,2016-12-27 The monitoring of quality has been part of the educational landscape for many decades Originally the need to monitor arose as part of an economic process whereby policy makers wanted to discern the return on investment in education This bottom line thinking while still prominent has receded into the background in light of global changes and the emergence of a global economy Now in addition to the question what is the return on investment the more important question is are the students in schools ready to participate in the economy of a 21st century society This is underpinned by the inquiry into what knowledge and competencies are required for students to participate meaningfully in nation building This inquiry can only be undertaken by means of monitoring evaluating where the students are and what is required so that students reach their potential In an ever changing technologically oriented world the manner in which competencies and knowledge are identified and how these need to be measured and identified is important In this book the theory and practice of underpinning the monitoring of the quality of education is described This is followed by a number of practical examples in the form of country case studies on how theory plays out in practice The book further provides common themes across developed and developing emerging economies underscoring the need for approaches which are locally relevant but internationally transferable
