Roman Portraits in Context Jane Fejfer, 2009-03-13 The highest honour a Roman citizen could hope for was a portrait statue in the forum of his city While the emperor and high senatorial officials were routinely awarded statues strong competition existed among local benefactors to obtain this honour which proclaimed and perpetuated the memory of the patron and his family for generations There were many ways to earn a portrait statue but such local figures often had to wait until they had passed away before the public finally fulfilled their expectations It is argued in this book that our understanding and contemplation of a Roman portrait statue is greatly enriched when we consider its wider historical context its original setting the circumstances of its production and style and its base which in many cases bore a text that contributed to the rhetorical power of the image

Science John Michels (Journalist), 1916 Pedagogic Encounters Aristi Trendel, 2021-02-15 This book offers a new approach to the genre of the campus novel Through a critical analysis of eleven novels Aristi Trendel argues that the specificity and complexity of the pedagogic rapport between professor and student calls for a new genre the Master Disciple novel After the 1980s the professor student relationship was highly scrutinized and politicized making the Master Disciple novel essential to critical theorists and educators Furthermore the Master Disciple novel broadens the scope of the campus novel as the master pupil rapport can develop beyond the halls of academia Though some of the novels analyzed in this book have been thoroughly discussed before Trendel reads them through the lens of the pedagogic rapport and in constant dialogue with a broad range of themes such as gender sexuality and power The book will be important for academics students and all who are interested in the bond between teacher and student
