The Rain Ascends Joy Kogawa, 2016-11-29 In Joy Kogawa's masterful third novel a middle aged woman discovers that her father a respected Anglican priest has long been a sexual abuser of boys Originally published to critical acclaim in 1995 The Rain Ascends has been revisited by the author with substantive additions to the end of the narrative that bring to fruition the heroine's struggle for forgiveness and redemption As a middle aged mother Millicent is confronted with the secrets of her father's past as she recalls certain events in her childhood a childhood that on the surface was a blissful one Disbelief turns to confusion as she faces up to the sins of her father and wrestles with a legacy of lies silence and her own embattled conscience In The Rain Ascends Joy Kogawa beautifully sifts the truth from the past and the sinner from the perceived saint The result is a sensitive poetic yet searing depiction of the wounds left by abuse and the redemption brought by truth

The Theatre of Regret David Gaertner, 2020-11-15 The Canadian public largely understands reconciliation as the harmonization of Indigenous settler relations for the benefit of the nation But is this really happening Reconciliation politics as developed in South America and South Africa work counter to retributive justice in order to redress the divide opened up between survivors and perpetrators as a result of historical violence The Theatre of Regret asks whether within the context of settler colonialism this approach will ultimately favour the state over the needs and requirements of Indigenous peoples Interweaving literature art and other creative media throughout his analysis David Gaertner questions the state centred frameworks of reconciliation by exploring the critical roles that Indigenous and allied authors artists and thinkers play in defining challenging and refusing settler regret Through close examination of its core concepts acknowledgement apology redress and forgiveness this study exposes the colonial ideology at the root of reconciliation in Canada The Minor Intimacies of Race Christine Kim, 2016-04-30 An attempt to put an Asian woman on Canada's 100 bill in 2012 unleashed enormous controversy The racism and xenophobia that answered this symbolic move toward inclusiveness revealed the nation's trumpeted commitment to multiculturalism as a lie It also showed how multiple minor publics as well as the dominant public responded to the ongoing issue of race in Canada In this new study Christine Kim delves into the ways cultural conversations minimize race's relevance even as violent expressions and structural forms of racism continue to occur Kim turns to literary texts artistic works and media debates to highlight the struggles of minor publics with social intimacy Her insightful engagement with everyday conversations as well as artistic expressions that invoke the figure of the Asian allows Kim to reveal the affective dimensions of racialized publics It also extends ongoing critical conversations within Asian Canadian and Asian American studies about Orientalism diasporic memory racialized citizenship and migration and human rights The Electrical Engineer, 1898 Social Progress Joyce Oramel Hertzler, 1928 The Eastern Alps Karl Baedeker (Firm), 1899 The New Volumes of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, 1902 The Khoisan Peoples of South Africa Isaac Schapera, 1930 The Eastern Alps, Including the Bavarian Highlands, the Tyrol, Salzkammergut,
