Overcentralization In Economic Administration:

Overcentralization in Economic Administration János Kornai, 2023-08-05 Overcentralization in Economic Administration Oxford 1959 was the first book written by an Eastern European and published in the West that openly criticized socialist central planning In this work the distinguished economist János Kornai begins a lifelong study of the economic organization of centrally planned economies Professor Kornai's aim in this book was to observe the reality of the working socialist system and to draw conclusions that were not distorted by the laws of Marxist political economy He provided a lucid and coherent account of conditions along with normative recommendations which influenced the Hungarian reform process culminating in the economic changes of 1968 Professor Kornai identified several systematic failures of the centrally planned economy and gave a prescient account of weak economic performance and eventual disintegration His argument for radical rather than partial change makes this book essential reading for those interested in the economics of transition in Eastern Europe

Overcentralization in economic administration Janos Kornai, 1959      The Contradictions of "Real Socialism": The Conductor and the Conducted Michael A. Lebowitz, 2012 In this concise volume noted scholar and economist Michael A. Lebowitz considers the legacy of twentieth century socialist societies or what some have termed real socialism While these societies were able to claim major achievements in areas from health care to education to popular culture they nonetheless met limited success in eroding what Marx called the opposition of the worker as direct producer and the proprietor of the means of production That this opposition between workers and managers continued to exist in one form or another under real socialism means that according to L.      A History of Modern Political Thought in East Central Europe Balázs Trencsényi, Michal Kopeček, Luka Lisjak Gabrijelčić, Maria Falina, Mónika Baár, Maciej Janowski, 2018-10-18 A History of Modern Political Thought in East Central Europe is a synthetic work authored by an international team of researchers covering twenty national cultures and 250 years It goes beyond the conventional nation centered narratives and presents a novel vision especially sensitive to the cross cultural entanglement of political ideas and discourses Its principal aim is to make these cultures available for the global market of ideas and revisit some of the basic assumptions about the history of modern political thought and modernity as such The present volume is a sequel to Volume I Negotiating Modernity in the Long Nineteenth Century It begins with the end of the Great War depicting the colorful intellectual landscape of the interwar period and the increasing political and ideological radicalization culminating in the Second World War Taking the war experience both as a breaking point but in many ways also a transmitter of previous intellectual traditions it maps the intellectual paradigms and debates of the immediate postwar years marked by a negotiation between the democratic and communist agendas as well as the subsequent processes of political and cultural Stalinization Subsequently the post Stalinist period is analyzed with a special focus on the various attempts of de Stalinization and the rise of revisionist Marxism and other critical projects culminating in the carnivalesque but also extremely dramatic year of 1968 This volume is followed by
