

Open The Door

Let me in, please open your doors, I will show my treasures.

Not gold, gem or diamonds, but treasures of my genuine passion, treasures of my true feelings, treasure of my being that i felt, that i know deep within my soul
that you and me together we shall be loved and happy.

All i am asking is the key, your trust, a chance, of you and me.

Out In The Open Poems:

Out in the Open Margaret Gibson, 1989-01-01 The lyric and meditative poems Margaret Gibson gives us in Out in the Open are works of contemplation and self inquiry In the long journey to be other than I am I have struggled and not got far she writes Sometimes the journey takes the poet literally out in the open the mountains the desert the fields the wood At other times the journey the search for vision and for truth begins a moment s notice in more familiar domestic surroundings I lift the glass turn it slowly in the light its whole body full of light Suddenly I hold everything I know myself most of all in question Waiting for a grasp of permanent unity and clarity the poet turns the act of waiting into a discipline that enables the obstructions encountered desire fear ambition death disharmony to become teachers Meeting others we meet ourselves one poem says and whether the other is a love or someone dying a former Nazi pilot or a blind woman in Zagorsk there is self meeting and sometimes a deep recognition of something beyond and yet within self At the core of what I am in that sacred space light does its work as it will without my consent or blessing and better so Echoes of Taoist Buddhist and Christian thinking haunt the mind in these poems although the vision arrived at in the last poems is syncretic an existential clarity in which struggle of wills is momentarily stilled The wind breathes light into our bones turning stars into power we can touch impulse we can follow of tell teaching love for that is what we are
