Middle East's Relations With Asia And Russia:

The Middle East's Relations with Asia and Russia Hannah Carter, Anoushiravan Ehteshami, 2013-01-11 Carter and Ehteshami consider the significant geopolitical economic and security links between the Middle East and the wider Asian world links which are often overlooked when the Middle East is considered in isolation or in terms of its relations with the West but which are of growing importance Topics covered include Asia's overall geostrategic realities and the Middle East's place within them relations between the Middle East and China Russia central Asia southeast Asia and south Asia Islam in central Asia and southeast Asia and the connections with the Middle East and the important links between the Middle East and India and Pakistan's military and security establishments

Rekindling the Strong State in Russia and China, 2020-04-20 Rekindling the Strong State in Russia and China offers a thorough analysis of the profound regeneration of the State and its intense interaction with the external projections of Russia and China In the international political scene leaderships are under constant negotiation Financial crisis social and cultural transformations values setting and migration flows have a deep impact on global powers leading to the appearance of new actors At present the assumed rise of a new axis between two emerging powers such as Russia and China effaces their different backgrounds leading to misinterpretations of their positioning in the geopolitical arena This book is an essential and multifaceted guide aimed at understanding the deep changes that affect these two countries and their global aspirations Contributors are Marco Puleri Andrea Passeri Marco Balboni Carmelo Danisi Mingjiang Li Mahalakshmi Ganapathy Rosa Mul Olga Dubrovina Evgeny Mironov Yongshun Cai Vasil Sakaev Eugenia Baroncelli Sonia Lucarelli Nicol Fasola Stefano Bianchini Stanislav Tkachenko Vitaly Kozyrev Marco Borraccetti Francesco Privitera Antonio Fiori Massimiliano Trentin Arrigo Pallotti Giuliana Laschi Michael Leigh Russia's Relations with the GCC and Iran Nikolay Kozhanov, 2021-04-01 This book offers insight into the motives behind Moscow's behaviour in the Persian Gulf with a specific focus on the GCC member states and Iran considering Russia's growing role in the Middle East and its desire to protect national interests using a wide range of means The book explores the drivers and motivations of the Russian foreign policy in the Gulf region thus helping the audience to generate informed prognosis about Moscow's moves in this area over the next years In contrast to most studies of Russia's presence in the region this book considers the Russian involvement in the Gulf from two standpoints the Russian and foreign The idea of the book is to take several key problems of Moscow's presence in the Gulf each of these to be covered by two authors Russian and non-Russian scholars in order to offer the readers alternative visions of Moscow's policies towards Iran and the GCC countries Russia and the World Natasha Kuhrt, 2014-10-14 This volume brings together analyses of key domestic foreign and security policy issues during the Putin and Medvedev administrations Indeed the chapters demonstrate the extent to which domestic and foreign policy issues are inextricably linked in particular in the domain of security whether hard or soft Internal debates regarding Russia's trajectory including issues of national identity economic modernisation human rights and democracy continue to be at the forefront of concern. Moreover, these debates are intimately connected to Russia's self-image and the image therefore that it wishes to project in the wider world. The debates focus on Russia as energy superpower, as one of the BRICS, as an Eurasian landbridge or a window on the Asia Pacific. Such debates are a constant reminder of the uncertainty surrounding Russia's future path. This book expresses these uncertainties which range from the role of nuclear weapons and energy to critiques of Russia's approach to concepts such as sovereignty and self-determination, the fight against terrorism, insurgency, and the role of Islam within and without Russia. May have left the chaos of the Yeltsin years behind, but as we move into Putin 3.0, the concerns of these chapters will remain critical both to Russia itself and to Russia's relations with the wider world. This book was published as a special issue of Europe Asia Studies. East-West Asia Relations in the 21st Century, Rotem Kowner, Yoram Evron, P.R. Kumaraswamy, 2023-10-02. This book examines the changing relations between the Asian part of the Middle East and the rest of the continent during the 21st century. Written by leading experts, this groundbreaking volume utilizes a comprehensive and multi-dimensional perspective to offer a novel and unique outlook on the evolving shape of East-West Asia relations and their global impact. Critically, it demonstrates that the intensification and diversification of East-West Asia relations since the 1990s have altered them from a set of separated bilateral ties into complex interregional relations. The book presents a nuanced comparative look at Asian countries' responses to global developments and China's rise in particular, and offers a new perspective on the very concept of Asia itself. It will be of interest to scholars, students, and practitioners working in the fields of International Relations, Asian Studies, and Middle Eastern Studies.

China, Russia, and the USA in the Middle East, Benjamin Houghton, Kasia A. Houghton, 2023-12-01. The shift in international relations towards multipolarity has had profound implications across the world, but particularly in highly penetrated regions such as the Middle East. This book explores the rivalry between the USA, Russia, and China in the region, investigating its effects and assessing the influence of regional actors and issues. Each chapter offers a comprehensive analysis of three core questions: How does global power competition manifest itself? How does it impact regional political, economic, and security dynamics? How do regional actors and issues influence the trajectory and dynamics of global power competition? Expert international contributors take a country case study approach to consider these questions and investigate the most pressing contemporary events, issues, and trends in Middle Eastern politics. Tackling transregional and global issues and themes, they analyse the convergence, divergence, and competition between global powers in managing threats and interests such as terrorism, energy, and cyber security, nuclear non-proliferation, conflict resolution, and warfare. This volume will appeal to scholars and students of international relations, great power competition, China, Russia, the USA, and the Middle East. Chapter 3 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0 International license.

Russia and the Middle East, Talal Nizameddin, 1999. The end of the Soviet Union precipitated a reassessment of Russia's foreign policy in many parts of the world particularly the Middle East This text looks at how a once cherished commitment to ideological goals and superpower rivalry with the United States was replaced after 1991 with a pragmatic foreign policy based on national interest epitomized by the appointment of Yevgeni Primakov as foreign minister The book examines Gorbachev s new thinking the foreign policy debates under President Yeltsin and the warning of Russian influence over the Palestinians and its consequent exclusion from the secret Oslo records Case studies of Russia s relations with Israel Syria Lebanon Jordan Saudi Arabia Iraq Turkey and Iran provide the reader with a detailed analysis of the region s wider diplomatic and strategic concerns

The Persian Gulf and Pacific Asia Christopher Michael Davidson,2010 A perfect storm of economic diplomatic and cultural concerns have brought about the Asianization of Asia uniting the continent s many countries under a dominant framework of interests and trends Pushing Asia s domain even further is a new and abiding relationship between Asia s three most industrialized economies and the Persian Gulf s six monarchies What began as a basic twentieth century marriage of convenience founded on the trading of hydrocarbon has now evolved into a complex long term commitment guaranteeing continuous exchange of resources and need This bond has also strengthened the non hydrocarbon bilateral trade that facilitates wealth investments on both sides building lucrative opportunities for Pacific Asian construction and in China s case its vast forces of labor Christopher Davidson an acclaimed expert on the Middle East s rapidly changing economy details the eastern and western factors that have brought Asia and the Gulf closer together Although this relationship has yet to include military arrangements evidence suggests that the two regions have bolstered other noneconomic ties Davidson unravels the confusing links between these emerging powers and shows how their unique economic political geographical and cultural identities both strengthen and threaten their future partnership
