

WE WEAR THE MASK BY PAUL LAWRENCE DUNBAR

We Wear the Mask by Paul Laurence Dunbar

'We Wear the Mask' by Paul Laurence Dunbar describes the way that "We" put on, and accept the presence of deceitful masks.

'We Wear the Mask' by Paul Laurence Dunbar is a three-stanza poem that is separated into one set of five lines, one of four, and one of six. The poem is structured in the form of a rondeau. This form is defined by having 10-15 lines and being organized into three stanzas. The rhyme scheme of this piece is repetitive, oriented around a refrain. In this case, the pattern is aabba aabc aabac. The end sounds repeat throughout this piece, with the refrain, "We wear the mask" appearing at the end of the second and third stanzas.

In regards to meter, the lines follow a pattern of iambic tetrameter. This means that each line contains four sets of two beats or iambs. They consist of an unstressed and stressed syllable. The only time the pattern changes are in the refrain, which only contains two sets of beats.

Summary of We Wear the Mask

'We Wear the Mask' by Paul Laurence Dunbar describes the way that "We" put on, and accept the presence of masks.

The poem begins with the speaker stating that "We," a reference to all of humankind, but specifically black Americans, put on masks. We wear them, and others use them to ignore the problems that exist in modern society. They have a deep impact on our understanding of ourselves and others. Hearts are changed through tearing, and mouths contain endless expressions.

The poem continues on to sarcastically ask why humankind should put out the effort to see behind the masks. It is so clear that we should take the time, but the world does not seem willing to.
