

MANOMETRIC METHOD

- If any of the substrates or products of an enzyme-catalysed reaction is a gas, the course of the reaction may be followed by manometric techniques.
- The sample and reagents are put into different compartments in the reaction vessel and mixed together at zero time; then, as the reaction proceeds, the uptake or evolution of gas is indicated by the movement of fluid in the manometer tube.

Manometric methods may be used to investigate reactions where a gas is consumed, e.g. that catalysed by glucose oxidase, where molecular oxygen is a substrate.

They may also be used when a gas is produced, e.g. to monitor CO₂ production in reactions catalysed by decarboxylases.
