At Peace with All Their Neighbors William W. Warner, 1994-10-01 In 1790 two events marked important points in the development of two young American institutions Congress decided that the new nation's seat of government would be on the banks of the Potomac and John Carroll of Maryland was consecrated as America's first Catholic bishop This coincidence of events signalled the unexpectedly important role that Maryland's Catholics many of them by then fifth and sixth generation Americans were to play in the growth and early government of the national capital In this book William W Warner explores how Maryland's Catholics drew upon their long standing traditions advocacy of separation of church and state a sense of civic duty and a determination to live at peace with all their neighbors in Bishop Carroll's phrase to take a leading role in the early government financing and building of the new capital Beginning with brief histories of the area's first Catholic churches and the establishment of Georgetown College At Peace with All Their Neighbors explains the many reasons behind the Protestant majority's acceptance of Catholicism in the national capital in an age often marked by religious intolerance Shortly after the capital moved from Philadelphia in 1800 Catholics held the principal positions in the city government and were also major landowners property investors and bankers In the decade before the 1844 riots over religious education erupted in Philadelphia the municipal government of Georgetown gave public funds for a Catholic school and Congress granted land in Washington for a Catholic orphanage The book closes with a remarkable account of how the Washington community Protestants and Catholics alike withstood the concentrated efforts of the virulently anti immigrant and anti Catholic American nativists and the Know Nothing Party in the last two decades before the Civil War This chronicle of Washington's Catholic community and its major contributions to the growth of the nation's capital will be of value for everyone interested in the history of Washington D C Catholic history and the history of religious toleration in America

The Career of Andrew Schulze, 1924-1968 Kathryn M. Galchutt, 2005 Andrew Schulze was a white pastor of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod who spent his early ministry serving black mission churches in Springfield Illinois 1924 1928 St Louis Missouri 1928 1947 and Chicago Illinois 1947 1954 He was an early proponent of integration during these years fighting continual battles to get black students admitted to Lutheran schools In the 1930s he began to lobby to end the mission status of black churches and black schools a goal which was finally realized in 1947 In 1941 he wrote a treatise on race relations in the church New Century Trinity David T. Williams, 2000 Comparative Views on Origins Brock Lee, 2009-12 Brock Lee's debut book stands alone in the creation vs evolution debate He documents and compares 23 views on the origins of man applying the microscope of true science to each view Systematically Lee demonstrates how each view stacks up to proven science The book will either strengthen readers views or force them to choose between what is true and what is proven to be fraud His extensive footnotes are as fascinating as the main text The Memorial History of the City of New-York James Grant Wilson, 1893 A directory of New York City for 1665 vol 1 p 338 340 Floods, from Defence to Management Jos van

Alphen, Eelco van Beek, Marco Taal, 2006-02-16 Floods are natural events but when they impact on human environments they turn into disasters which disrupt society The last decades have seen an alarming increase in the number of major floods and associated damage on every continent The impact is more severe due to population growth and settlement in flood prone areas climate change and disaster
