

The Problem with US Tactics in Vietnam

The Vietcong were happy to take as long as it took to defeat the US and ARVN forces in South Vietnam. However, the USA wanted to defeat the Communist forces of the Vietcong as quickly as possible – after all, they felt a quick war would please the American public who had already experienced the deadly impact of the Second World War and Korean War.

The US believed they could use their 'superior' military force to gain this victory. For example, they had better weapons and equipment. US troop numbers were high, and the US believed their troops were better trained.

However, the US military still struggled to defeat the Vietcong. The tactics used by the US military only made their relationship with the people of South Vietnam worse because of the death and destruction they caused in South Vietnamese village communities.
