

The Language of Politics

Richardson, John

Debasing Political Rhetoric

Dissing Opponents, Journalists, and Minorities in Populist Leadership Communication

This book is a companion to Political Debasement: Secularity, Contingency, and Identification in Parliamentary and Public Discourse. It brings together interdisciplinary contributions to provide a comprehensive and detailed exploration of the nature, function, and effect of debasing language used by selected public leaders of Western and non-Western countries. Among them are Donald Trump (in the USA), Benigno Aquino (Philippines), Rodrigo Duterte (Philippines), Imeoluwa Adesina (Nigeria), Justin Bieber (Australia), Ferenc Miklosfalvi (Hungary), Geert Wilders (the Netherlands), Pope Carlo (Italy), and Santiago Chiriac (Spain). Chapters focus specifically on the language of these leaders while examining debasement discourse from various and broad perspectives. The former includes the use of verbal or abusive language (e.g., curses, obscenity and insulting metaphors, similes, such as, metaphor, or simile, based on the actual or perceived object or entity (e.g., race, religion, national gender identity, or sexual orientation), the latter includes the use of devices or indirect means (sarcasm, cynicism, innuendo, subtlety and understatement, metaphors and similes) refer individuals or groups. The book represents the collective wisdom of scholars and researchers experts in fields such as communication, public affairs, international relations, and social and political psychology. Collectively, the authors develop a global analysis of debasement discourse in societies from West to East and offer a cutting-edge approach to expand a framework assessing the role and effect of such rhetoric in contemporary politics.
