The previous volume can be found here Advances and Applications of Artificial Intelligence and Numerical Simulation in Risk Emergency Management and Treatment. Our world is composed of multidimensional and multifaceted risks. In general, geological, environmental, and ecological risks would exist in both natural and engineering situations, such as karst, desertification, water inrush, rock burst, debris flow, and landslide. These risks have great safety threats to human survival. In this regard, risk emergency management and treatment (REMT) has become a pivotal topic addressing the national governance system and its governance capacity. It underlines how to prevent and resolve grand security risks to timely respond to all kinds of disasters and accidents, as well as to safeguard people's lives and property and social stability.
