Foster, Michael L. Martin, 1969 Metaphysics and the Mind-body Problem Michael E. Levin, 1979 Defends the ancient thesis that man is a piece of matter that all his states are physical states and all his properties physical properties This is done in a metaphysical framework which accommodates talk of the identity and diversity of such virtual entities as states and properties without being committed to their actual existence The Review of Metaphysics, 1966 Foundations of Geometry & Induction Jean Nicod, 1930 Evolutionary Theory, 1982 A London Bibliography of the Social Sciences, 1931 Vols 1-4 include material to June 1 1929 Rules of Acceptance and the Body of Scientific Knowledge John Orson Gurney, 1974 Philosophy of Science Peter A. French, 1993 The 21 essays collected in this volume of Midwest Studies in Philosophy question and debate the primary assumptions of science These are its conception of an orderly universe its ability to define and its ability to explain The contributors approach these topics from varying perspectives including the historic development of our understanding of the scientific enterprise the controversy of opposing paradigms and the challenges raised by quantum mechanics Opportunistic Constructive Induction Gregg H. Gunsch, 1991 The Philosophy of Science David Papineau, 1996 The aim of this series is to bring together important recent writings in major areas of philosophical inquiry selected from a variety of sources mostly periodicals which may not be conveniently available to the university student or the general reader The editor of each volume contributes an introductory essay on the items chosen and on the questions with which they deal A selective bibliography is appended as a guide to further reading The contributors ask whether we are justified in believing scientific theories and what attitude we should take to them if we are not Although few philosophers seriously question the existence of everyday objects like trees and tables many have real doubts about viruses electrons and gravitational waves The last two decades have seen important new work in the philosophy of science stimulated by sceptical attitudes towards scientific theories Scientific realists have in turn countered with arguments of their own resulting in a wide ranging debate drawing from many different philosophical disciplines The Philosophy of Science bridges the gap between both sides of the argument including articles on different species of realism and anti realism the underdetermination of theory by evidence the lessons of the history of science naturalized epistemology of science and Bayesian methodology Logic and Philosophy Howard Kahane, 1978 Conceptual Foundations of Scientific Thought Marx W. Wartofsky, 1968
