

Problems of Tribal Education in India

Dr. Dipati Ranjan Malik*

[This study is based on secondary source; the paper discusses as to how tribals are facing problems to access education in remote areas and a serious concern is that tribal children are unable to receive basic quality of education. While thinking about bringing in a reformation in education, the major point of consideration here is that what are the things that prevents the development of education system in India, particularly in tribal regions.]

Article 366 of the Constitution of India proclaims that Scheduled Tribes are those communities, who are scheduled in accordance with Article 342 of the Constitution. This Article declares that only those communities who have been confirmed as such by the President through an initial public notification or through a subsequent amending Act of Parliament will be considered to be Scheduled Tribe.

The list of Scheduled Tribes is State/UT specific and a community confirmed as a Scheduled Tribe in a State need not be so in another State. The inclusion of a community as a Scheduled Tribe is an ongoing process. The essential uniqueness, first laid down by the Lokur Committee, for a group of people to be identified as Scheduled Tribes are; a) indications of primitive traits; b) unique culture; c) shyness of contact with the community at large; d) geographical isolation; and e) backwardness.

For the advancement of a society, it is very essential to take all the communities simultaneously like disadvantaged and weaker sections such as scheduled tribes, for uplifting them and for helping them to achieve educational attainment, then only progress is possible and it will help for our national integration.

Importance of education tells us the value of education in our life. Education provides the skill and knowledge of the world; it helps for making a good career. It constitutes the foundation of a stronger nation. Education makes man complete. Through education only, the weaker sections of the society overcome their problems, avoid all type of exploitation and deprivation and avail psychological and financial profit to smoothen their lives.

Although there is an important development in the literacy of population of all categories in India, the tribals are far behind from others. Despite special emphasis on tribal education by the government, since independence, the attainment is not as per expectations and the problem of tribal education needs to be paid more attention. The tribal education, being a distinct discipline with different socio-cultural fabrics and hardships, needs to be analysed to focus on the problems attached to it.

Tribal profile in India

There are about 550 tribes in India. As per 1951 census, 5.6% of the total population of the country was tribal. According to Census-2011, the number of scheduled tribes in India is 10, 42, 81,034. It is 8.6% of the total population of India (As per 2001 Census, it was 8.2% of the total population of India.). A total of 9, 38, 19, 162 people belong to scheduled tribes reside in rural areas while 1, 04, 61, 872 people in urban areas. The scheduled tribes are 11.3% of the total population of rural areas and 2.8% of urban areas. During 2001-2011 the decadal increase rate of the population of India was 17.64%.

During this period the decadal increase rate of the scheduled tribes was 23.7%. The decadal growth rate of the scheduled tribes in rural areas was less (21.3%) whereas it was more (49.7%) in urban areas. As per Census 2011, the rate of literacy in India is 72.99% whereas that of it in scheduled tribes is 59%. State-wise, the rate of literacy in scheduled tribes is highest in Mizoram (91.7%) and lowest in Andhra Pradesh (49.2%). Among union territories, the highest rate of literacy in scheduled tribes is in Lakshadweep (91.7%).
