Rethinking The Forms Of Visual Expression:

Rethinking the Forms of Visual Expression Robert Sowers,1990 Robert Sowers begins this book by questioning our conception of the visual arts painting sculpture and architecture as autonomous archetypal entities that can be defined independent of one another in terms of their materials and techniques He cuts through the limits of categorization we have come to accept to lay the groundwork for a coherent theory of the relation between the visual arts He proposes that we treat the pictorial the sculptural and the architectural not as palpable physical things but as activities the basic forms of visual expression employed to create such distinct artifacts as paintings statues and buildings By defining the expressive function of each art Sowers helps us to understand what we mean when we speak of the sculptural qualities of architecture or the pictorial qualities of sculpture The world of visual art then is a structured whole a world in which the arts can meet merge with and mutually reinforce or swear at one another often in unexpected yet compelling ways Rethinking the forms of visual expression R. Sowers,1990 Arnheim, Gestalt and Media Ian Verstegen,2019-01-09 This monograph presents a synthesis and reconstruction of Rudolf Arnheim s theory of media Combining both Arnheim s well known writings on film and radio with his later work on the psychology of art the author presents a coherent approach to the problem of the nature of a medium space and time and the differentia between different media The latent ontological commitments of Arnheim s theories is drawn out by affirming Arnheim s membership in the Brentano school of Austrian philosophy which allows his theories to be clarified and strengthened particularly with the metaphysical writings of Roman Ingarden The resulting theory is relational portraying essential medial differences with neutral criteria and allowing for a rigorous definition of a medium The way in which a medium is based on the inherent dispositions of medial materials creates a highly appealing theory that is determinate without being deterministic The theory is thus highly timely as people in media studies seek to address the determinate nature of media after the post medium condition The book will appeal to researchers and graduate students in cultural and media studies as well as architecture and design American Craft ,1991 Rethinking the High Renaissance Jill Burke,2017-07-05 The perception that the early sixteenth century saw a culmination of the Renaissance classical revival only to degrade into mannerism shortly after Raphael s death in 1520 has been extremely tenacious but many scholars agree that this tidy narrative is deeply problematic Exploring how we can reconceptualize the High Renaissance in a way that reflects how we research and teach today this volume complicates and deepens our understanding of artistic change Focusing on Rome the paradigmatic centre of the High Renaissance narrative each essay presents a case study of a particular aspect of the culture of the city in the early sixteenth century including new analyses of Raphael s Stanza Michelangelo s Sistine Ceiling and the architectural designs of Bramante The contributors question notions of periodization reconsider the Renaissance relationship with classical antiquity and ultimately reconfigure our understanding of high Renaissance style The Best Books for Academic Libraries: Music & fine arts ,2002 Books recommended for
