

The Life Cycle of a Penguin

Adult

The penguin can go out to sea once it has its adult feathers. It is now independent and can swim, dive and find its own food.

Some types of penguins can live up to 20 years old.

Egg

The female penguin lays an egg. She and her penguin partner take it in turns keeping it warm.

Chicks need their parents to feed and look after them.

Chick

The chick makes a small hole in the shell with its beak when it is ready to hatch. It can take nearly three days to hatch fully. The chick's feathers are soft and downy.

Fledging

The downy feathers come off. The fledgling grows new waterproof feathers to replace them.
