The Political Economy of Financial Market Regulation Peter Mooslechner, 2006 In this very nice volume reputed academics and central bankers discuss recent regulatory reforms in financial governance from a political economy perspective Therefore it is invaluable for both policymakers and scholars interested in financial governance and market regulation Sylvester C W Eijffinger Tilburg University The Netherlands Centre for Economic Policy Research UK and CESifo Research Network Munich Germany This book focuses on recent financial market reforms and their implications for social economic and political exclusion In particular it considers the hitherto under researched question of whose interests govern the design of regulatory mechanisms and who influences the decision making process This process is set out as contested terrain in which there are winners and losers and in which there are inevitably circles of exclusion The authors comprising financial authority experts and academic specialists expand the concept of exclusion beyond its typical social dimension to incorporate all actors be they individuals or institutions not permitted to contribute to financial market regulation as a public good As they point out this may take the form of political economic or indeed cultural exclusion The book examines the conflicts that arise between various interests and how these are managed within the process of regulation

Equality of Retirement Benefits Received by Men and Women in Selected European Countries: Childbearing and Future Benefits ,2008 Analyses the interrelationship between fertility and the retirement benefits of men and women and considers possible changes in old age pension systems to stimulate decisions on having children

Age Discrimination and Diversity Malcolm Sargeant,2011-08-04 This volume of essays is concerned with the discrimination against older people that results from a failure to recognise their diversity By considering the unique combinations of discrimination that arise from the interrelationship of age and gender pensions ethnicity sexual orientation socio economic class and disability the contributors demonstrate that the discrimination suffered is multiple in nature It is the combination of these characteristics that leads to the need for more complex ways of tackling age discrimination

Central and Eastern Europe ,2009-09-28 The collapse of communism in 1989 paved the way for the reunification of the continent This book analyzes the impact of the different dynamics of change since 1989 on public policy and on various economic and political sectors

Pension Reform and the Development of Pension Systems Emily S. Andrews,2006 Formal pension systems are an important means of reducing poverty among the aged In recent years however pension reform has become a pressing matter as demographic aging poor administration early retirement and unaffordable benefits have strained pension balances and overall public finances Pension systems have become a source of macroeconomic instability a constraint to economic growth and an ineffective and or inequitable provider of retirement income

Pension Reform World Bank,2006 This book is based on an international conference organized by the World Bank and the Swedish National Social Insurance board held in Sandhamn Sweden in October 2003 It addressed the question of what non financial or notional defined contribution plans NDCs bring to pension reform and presents 24 papers on the conceptual foundations and issues surrounding NDCs country implementation of NDCs Italy Latvia Poland and Sweden and case studies for countries where NDCs are figured in the reform debate

Labour Markets, Industrial Relations and Human Resources Management Roger Blanpain,2012-03-01 Social models are always contested and ambiguous This is particularly evident in the field of human resources management where decisions that ultimately affect the patterns of social relations are made every day This collection of in depth essays focuses on some central human resources elements gender youth ageing educational
