

Positive Flying

A detailed model of a biplane is shown in flight against a clear blue sky. The aircraft is white with dark accents on the fuselage and wings. It features a high-wing configuration with a single engine mounted on the upper wing. The landing gear is visible, and the tail section is also detailed. The model is positioned diagonally across the frame, from the upper left towards the lower right.

For the first time in print,
the actual numbers: a disciplined method of making an airplane do precisely what you want it to do.
