The Edwardian Picture Postcard as a Communications Revolution Julia

Gillen,2023-07-13 This monograph offers a novel investigation of the Edwardian picture postcard as an innovative form of multimodal communication revealing much about the creativity concerns and lives of those who used postcards as an almost instantaneous form of communication In the early twentieth century the picture postcard was a revolutionary way of combining short messages with an image making use of technologies in a way impossible in the decades since until the advent of the digital revolution This book offers original insights into the historical and social context in which the Edwardian picture postcard emerged and became a craze It also expands the field of Literacy Studies by illustrating the combined use of posthuman multimodal historic and linguistic methodologies to conduct an in depth analysis of the communicative sociolinguistic and relational functions of the postcard Particular attention is paid to how study of the picture postcard can reveal details of the lives and literacy practices of often overlooked sectors of the population such as working class women The Edwardian era in the United Kingdom was one of extreme inequalities and rapid social change and picture postcards embodied the dynamism of the times Grounded in an analysis of a unique open access digitized collection of 3 000 picture postcards this monograph will be of interest to researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of Literacy Studies sociolinguistics history of communications and UK social history

Reading Gender

Felice Lifshitz,2023-04-25 This collection brings together twelve essays published between 1988 and 2014 two of which are here translated into English from respectively their original French or German All the essays use gender as the main category of analysis whether of late ancient or early medieval texts or of modern medievalist films The historical studies of medieval Europe emphasize the use of manuscript level evidence that is actual sources from the period in question arguably this approach provides a more accurate understanding of the period than does work done on the basis of printed and edited sources Furthermore many of the manuscript based essays specifically exploit liturgical or liturgy adjacent materials this is an area of research and a type of manuscript that has rarely been approached through a gendered lens Meanwhile the cinematic medievalism essays focus on the processes of remediation and adaptation searching specifically for points at which filmmaking teams diverged from their sources as evidence for the main goals of the films while also attending to production contexts and to reception The juxtaposition in a single collection of scholarship on medieval manuscripts and modern movies illustrates how period specialists can contribute to conversations in the field of historical film studies The book will be of interest to historians of women gender Christian liturgy medieval Europe medievalism and historical film CS 1110 El-Hi
