Sir George Aston

Marine Memories:

Things I'll Never Forget James Dixon, 2016-07-22 Things I'll never forget is the story of a young high school graduate in 1965 who faces being drafted into the Army or volunteering for the Marine Corps. These are his memories of funny times, disgusting times, and deadly times. The author kept a journal for an entire year, therefore many of the dates, times, and places are accurate. The rest is based on memories that are forever tattooed on his brain. This is not a pro-war book nor is it anti-war. It is the true story of what the Marine Corps was like in the late 1960s when the country had a draft and five hundred thousand Americans were serving one-year tours in battle-torn South East Asia. If you served in Viet Nam, you will want to compare your experience with the author's. If you know someone who went to Viet Nam, you will want to read for yourself what it was like. If you lost a loved one or friend in the war, you will want to read this and share it with others. Point Man Up Walter Steinbacher, 2021-02-15 I limped on my throbbing right leg towards the C-123 twin-engine plane waiting on the mortar-damaged tarmac of Khe Sahn airfield. Stumbling up the ramp, I heard the booming 105 artillery rounds streaking towards the dug-in NVA on Hill 689. I also heard the chatter of heavy small arms fire. Before entering the plane, I caught a glimpse of an F-4 Phantom Jet screaming down on a strafing run. When I entered the plane, a crew chief was shouting, "Get strapped in along the bulkhead, we must get underway before the NVA blows us to hell with incoming mortars." When the plane started to move, a sick impulse overcame me. The platoon, my squad, and fire team were out in that hell storm attempting to snatch that steep mountain from the NVAs. I should be with them. I thought, leading. And I knew some would die that day. Damn, I never wanted my tour to end that way, helpless, flying away from the men I loved. In his personal memoir, Walter T. Steinbacher tells the story of how young, gritty men survived each day, confronted with horrific stress. Point Man Up recounts Steinbacher's experiences serving with Alpha Company, 1st Battalion, and India Company, 3rd Battalion, 26th Marine Landing Team from 1966-1967. Join him as he walks on point into combat with the US Marine Corps and then beyond into his life after Vietnam. Semper Fi, Mac Henry Berry, 1996-10-16 Semper Fi, Mac brings to life the Marines of World War II, the tough, battle-trained troops who stormed the beaches of Bougainville, Tarawa, Saipan, Iwo Jima, and Okinawa in some of the bitterest and bloodiest fighting of the war. Compiled from over seventy-five interviews with surviving officers and enlisted men, these powerful firsthand accounts give us a soldier's-eye portrait of the Marine Pacific War experience: the camaraderie, the women, the loneliness, the fear, and the profound emotional as well as spiritual rewards that resulted. Former machine gunners, riflemen, mortar men, and engineers share the horrifying and humorous stories that defined their days in the Pacific. Through this filter of recollection, one truism is reflected: time and again, there is no such thing as an ex-Marine. A tour de force that pays tribute to the spirit of the nation's premier fighting force, Semper Fi, Mac is a multifaceted portrayal of men, war, bravery, honor, and as The Marines Hymn so proudly proclaims, fidelity to the military tradition that inspired them. Barriers and Opportunities Related to the Transfer of Technology, 1998 A Few Good Memories Bob Taylor, 2002 Humorous and nostalgic stories about Marines in Boot Camp told by Marines on themselves and others Marine Memories Kathryn I. Lipsch,2016-12-07 This book is guaranteed to bring smiles and laughter is filled with true but short stories of memories situations and events all telling about personal situations in the service of defending our country If you served as these authors did you may relate to some of these stories as if they were your own This book is a great gift to those who served or to those mothers and fathers of those who served and to the children of those who bravely served that they may understand the depth of that service given Memories of a Marine Sir George Aston,1919 Marine Corps Memories William Barrons,2011-07 Although I served in the Marines during the horrors of World War II and during the equally fierce Korean War I never actually personally shot any enemies not a single one But as the reader understands most servicemen didn't kill anyone either and there were still adventures aplenty for a young man eager to serve his nation in the time of need I hope you enjoy my tales A Marine's Memories Jonathan Otis,Washoe County Library System,Nevada Humanities Committee,University of Nevada, Reno. Memories of a Marine Sir George Aston,1925 1968 Vietnam Letters and Memories of a Marine Marlene Marchaesi,2009-04-03 Anything is pretty much possible if you dream it you can have it That is unless war is a factor This is a narrative true story of a young girl who grew up in a poor dysfunctional family in Upstate New York and lives mostly in a dream world as a means to escape her mundane life Probably not such a unique story But she is unique in that she does something about it she doesn't wait for things to happen or anyone else to be in control of her destiny she takes the reins Through enthusiasm and guts she manages to live the life she's always dreamed about to travel to see the world Its 1967 and at the inexperienced age of 20 she leaves her home in New York to work in Great Britain as a domestic where she stays for nearly two years She gets there on a one way ticket working papers 100 and the determination to see what the real Europe is like not through the eyes of a tourist who only visits for a couple of weeks She comes out of this experience not only with an education that she otherwise never would have had but some great stories she'll be able to pass on to family and friends But before she leaves on her adventure of a lifetime she becomes a friend and lover to Peter He is her first real love and memories of our first usually remain forever This was no different for Marlene and she chronicles the way her and Peter kept in touch in 1967 and 1968 with their letters And after experiencing some great highs during her two years abroad she returns home with a heavy heart as Peter has become a casualty of the Vietnam War the day the letters stopped A starry eyed adventurous young girl still rather naive when she left home returns having aged a lot more than she bargained for In the end however she would come to realize that certain people enter your life for a reason She was lucky enough to let Peter into hers as he has been such a positive influence for over 40 years This book contains the actual letters Peter wrote to Marlene and her recollections of what she wrote back to him with no embellishments Although the book deals with the Vietnam Era anyone who has friends or relatives serving in the military today will relate to the story The Reserve Marine ,1971
