Marines At War:

Marines at War Paolo G. Tripodi, Kelly Frushour, 2016 Marines at War provides an understanding of what the experience of going to war was like for the veterans of the Afghanistan and Iraqi wars. The essays are written by several Marines and a U S Navy chaplain who deployed with Marines in combat. Though combat is probably the most powerful experience of being at war, many other aspects are also important when comprehending fully what going to war is like. Thus several essays deal with the broader experience of being deployed to a war zone and not necessarily with combat. Many published books provide an excellent understanding of combat; this book provides insight on the impact war makes on individuals overall. The essays in this book convey that going to war is a complex phenomenon that begins before troops even arrive in a war zone and lasts well beyond the end of deployments. Going to war makes an impact on individual servicemembers, their immediate family, and their larger military family, their fellow Marines. Provided by publisher Always Faithful Eric Hammel, 2011-10-18. A picture is worth a thousand words. In his latest book, Marine Corps historian and author of over 40 books, Eric Hammel has assembled one hundred combat photos from the Pacific Theater of Operations of the Second World War. Together, these tell the story of the Marines' costly victory over the Japanese. Over the years, historians, novelists, film makers, and artists have attempted to capture what it was like to fight in the Pacific. In Always Faithful, readers are invited to take in the combat slowly as it unfolds, image by image. Arranged by theme, from dramatic images of beach assaults to heartbreaking photographs of the injured and killed in action, Always Faithful seeks to depict the essence of the War in the Pacific and the core of what it means to be a Marine. We are Marines! Linda Cates Lacy, 2004. Three Block War Matt Zeigler, 2004. U S Marine Corps General Charles C. Krulak predicted in the 1990s that 21st Century Warfare would be a multi-faceted endeavor fought primarily on urban terrain. He defined it as Three Block War. The former Commandant's foresight was proven correct in the spring of 2003 during Gulf War II against Iraq. Block I: Humanitarian Aid. After three decades of Saddam Baath Party rule and three wars, the Iraqi people would need everything from food, water, and medical aid to a new justice system. Block II: Peacekeeping Operations. Once Saddam was defeated, Marines would contend with infighting amongst various religious and ethnic groups. Block III: Combat. In small towns and big cities throughout Iraq, Marines engaged Iraqi Army, Republican Guard forces in full-scale battles, including tank and artillery duels with F-18 Harrier and Super Cobra gunship close air support. They also confronted asymmetrical guerilla forces. Iraq was also a Mecca for terrorists; foreign and domestic battles at Baghdad, Nasiriyah, Umm Qasr, Diwaniyah, and elsewhere made Gulf War II a grunt's war. America's Battalion Otto J. Lehrack, 2005-02-11. The 3rd of the 3rd, also known as America's Battalion, had just returned from deployment in the summer of 1990 when they were required to immediately re-deploy to a strange land to face a battle-hardened enemy after Iraq invaded Kuwait. They were only the second Marine battalion to arrive in Saudi Arabia. They participated in the first allied ground operation of the war, played a key role in the battle for the city of Khafji, and were the first to infiltrate the Iraqi wire.

One Marine's War Gerald A Meehl, 2012-05-15 One Marine's War recounts the experiences of Robert Sheeks a Marine combat interpreter and how he underwent a remarkable transformation as a consequence of his encounters with the Imperial Japanese Army Nisei Japanese American language instructors Japanese and Pacific Island native civilians and American Marines It is the first time the entire story of one Marine Corps combat interpreter has been told and it provides a unique insight into an aspect of the Pacific war that is not only fascinating history but also a compelling personal struggle to come to terms with a traumatic childhood and subsequent harrowing combat experiences The son of an American corporate executive Bob was born and raised in Shanghai until the family fled the impending Japanese occupation in the 1930s He was emotionally scarred by grisly atrocities he personally witnessed as the Japanese military terrorized the Chinese population during the Shanghai Incident in 1932 However his intense hatred for the Japanese military was gradually transformed into tolerance and then compassion He was recruited out of Harvard after the Pearl Harbor attack to be a Japanese language interpreter in the Marine Corps When he encountered kind and considerate Japanese American Nisei instructors during the intensive course at the U S Navy Japanese Language School at the University of Colorado he began to re think his attitudes toward the Japanese Ultimately through an intriguing set of circumstances he developed an empathy for the Japanese enemy he formerly despised This began during the invasion of Tarawa where he was frustrated by the near impossibility of capturing Japanese combatants partly because there was no way to communicate with them in their bunkers where they fought to the death That led him to devise methods to use a combination of surrender leaflets and amplified voice appeals to convince the enemy to surrender As a consequence he personally ended up saving the lives of hundreds of Japanese civilians and military by being able to talk them out of caves during combat on Saipan and Tinian in 1944 He was able to find humanity in the midst of war For his efforts he was awarded the Bronze Star with a unique commendation certainly one of the few medals ever given to a Marine officer for saving the lives of the enemy
